Mr. Hale (Me.) asked if the road along the river front was to be built on piles, as he understood it was to be, and therefore it would run Office; Boom No. 1, over Bank of War close to the river, if it would not at some future time prove oppressive in its eccupancy of so much water front?

fair, if not the next fair day thereafter,) that very desirable property conveyed to me by said deed, containing 30 Acres, more or less.

It is well situated for health, remote from the water, near the Episcopal Church; is in a high state of cultivation, and well adapted to the growth of vegetables of all kinds, and to which it has been most profitably applied for years past.

The Buildings and enclosures are in excellent repair, and it possesses every advantage for a most pleasant country residence, and a safe, profitable and judicious investment.

Persons desiring to inspect the property are referred to my Attorney, B. C. Stephen, esq., at Biadensburg, Prince George's country, Ed.

Mr. Speer expressed surprise that the Delegate from the District should question the right of the representatives of the people to ask who the officers of a road were. He meant no offense in the inquiry, and there would have been no indelicacy in the gentleman's advocating the bill if he had got up and frankly explained his connection with the road, but when the gentleman came before the House as an applicant for bounty, it is indelicate in him to question the motives of members.

Mr. Hale (N. Y.) said it had been charged that the Pennsylvania Central railroad had strong reasons for opposition to this bill, and he desired to ask the gentleman from Pennsylvania on the other side publicly whether that opposition prompted the motions adverse to this bill. Mr. Speer said this was the first time he had heard that the Pennsylvania road was opposed to the bill, and if the gentleman from New York knew such was the case, he was probably better informed than himself.

Mr. Scofield (Pa.) said the gentleman must have a strong interest in the bill himself, or he would not be so ready to cast imputations upon others.
